Collaborative Innovation to Inspire Growth

PARTNERSHIP READINESS ASSESSMENT

SCHOOL VISION AND MISSION ALIGNMENT

- Can you clearly define your school's mission and vision?

CURRENT NEEDS AND GOALS

- What are the top 3 priorities or challenges your school is currently facing?
- What specific goals or objectives do you hope to achieve through a partnership?
- What is the current status of these goals (e.g., in progress, challenges, areas for improvement)?

RESOURCES AND READINESS FOR COLLABORATION

- What resources (time, staff, budget, etc.) does your school have available to dedicate to a partnership?
- Who are the key stakeholders in your school who would need to be involved in the partnership (leadership, faculty, board members, parents, etc.)?
- How willing is your school to engage in a collaborative partnership?

SCHOOL CULTURE AND CLIMATE

- How would you describe the current culture of your school?
- How does your school currently handle external collaborations or partnerships?
- How open is your school community (staff, parents, students) to change or introducing new ways of doing things?

DESIRED PARTNERSHIP CHARACTERISTICS

- What qualities are most important to you in a potential partner?
- What type of support are you seeking from a partner?
- What would success look like in a partnership for your school?

PARTNERSHIP SUSTAINABILITY AND LONG-TERM PLANNING

- Do you have a plan in place for maintaining a long-term partnership?
- What type of support or training would your staff or leadership need to ensure a successful partnership?
- How would you assess the overall feasibility of committing to a partnership at this time?

SCORING & REFLECTION

After answering these questions, consider your responses and reflect on the following:

- Are there specific goals that you feel a partnership could directly address?
- What resources (time, people, finances) would you need to make this partnership successful?
- How aligned is your school with the idea of collaboration and change?

This self-assessment can serve as a starting point for a meaningful conversation about how to develop a partnership that best meets the needs of your school.
